SAINT MARY-OF-THE-WOODS COLLEGE

5 THINGS TO KNOW

1

Athletics
SMWC athletes, nearly 30 percent of all campus students, maintain a higher GPA than the entire campus student body. They excel academically, while simultaneously competing nationally in the United States Collegiate Athletic Association (USCAA) and the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association. We offer seven sports: basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball as well as hunt seat and western equestrian teams.

2

Bachelor's and Master's In Four Years
Imagine earning a bachelor's and your master's in only four years. The 3+1 Leadership Development program combines comprehensive business, technology and leadership skills. Students graduate with greater knowledge and more experience in less time creates more marketable graduates.

3

Equine Studies
We are the only equine program in Indiana to offer a Bachelor of Science degree in equine studies. Additionally, SMWC is one of approximately 20 colleges in the U.S. to offer a Bachelor of Science degree in equine studies.

4

New Majors
In the fall of 2013, SMWC will launch two new majors to help students prepare for fulfilling careers in criminology and healthcare administration. Both campus and Woods Online students will have the ability to enroll in these new degree programs. SMWC offers over 25 majors – preparing students for a lifetime of learning, working and stewardship.

5

Research
One of the many ways we are set apart from other liberal arts colleges is by extending a variety of research opportunities to undergraduates. Students, paired with faculty mentors, develop projects, collect data and present findings.
